

SAVE THE DATE

The UCLA Library Writer Series Presents
Maya Lenca Storytelling: Into the Next Millennium

A performance of a Maya-Lenca creation myth by the young chief Leonel Chevez.

Leonel Chevez is a health worker, artist, and activist grounded in his Maya-Lenca traditions. Born in the Maya-Lenca region of El Salvador, he has worked to maintain his traditions alive. For more info on Chevez see <http://www.antoniochevez.com>.

Thursday, March 1st
Charles E. Young Research Library
Presentation Room
1:00-3:00 p.m.

This event is free and open to the public. Please RSVP by February 25, 2012 at lesliem@library.ucla.edu

Refreshments and snacks will be served.

*Co-sponsored by the American Indian Center; Latin American Institute, Cesar Chavez
Department of Chicana and Chicano Studies, Mayavision*

UCLA LIBRARY
