Dear Mr. ;

First and foremost, I extend my sincerest apologies for the delay with this letter. Things are beginning to slow down a little bit in the office now that summer is here; I am making it a goal of mine to be A LOT quicker with responses to letters like yours.

Our current inventory does not have any Warm Springs material, but I was able to access some articles about Warm Springs culture through the UCLA domain and library. I hope that you that you find these articles satisfactory. Until we receive actual books about the Warm Springs people, I will be more than glad to search for articles for you. Additionally, in this package, I have included a couple of different books that pertain to tribes of the Pacific Northwest, and the Northwest in general. Hopefully they will provide some relevant information and possibly have connections to your people. As we receive more books, I will make sure to save anything related to your interests for you. Below you will find the list of articles and book titles that I have enclosed:

The Treaty Rights of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs

Three Warm Springs -Wasco Stories

Early Explorations Through Warm Springs Reservation Area

Phantom Waters: Northwest Legends of Rivers, Lakes, and Shores

Stories that Make the World

AICRJ Volume 34.1 and 34.3

All of the materials that we send are yours to keep and there is no charge for them. If you want to share, trade, or donate these books when your time in EOCI is complete, that is up to you. You do not need to return anything to us.

I hope you enjoy the books. Thank you again for your interest.

Sincerely,

Anthony Recinos
