Dear Frank :

I am happy to hear that you have enjoyed the books that we have sent you.
Unfortunately the third book that you requested "What Can Tribes Do?" is not available.

We have a very small staff at the Center, so sometimes it takes a while to respond to correspondence, but we are happy to send you books free of charge.

Thanks for your interest.

Sincerely,

Dear MS Grieman:

I have recieved the complimentary copies of two of the 3 books that I had requested. The Indian Child Welfare Act: Unto the Seventh Generation and Future of Indigenous Peoples: Strategies for Survival and Development.

Concerning the third book that I requested, What Can Tribes Do? you stated that it was unavailable, because it is out of print. I noticed that in the catalog from the University there is a revised edition that should be available some time this year. When the revised edition is in print, if possible ~~and~~<sup>I</sup> would like to request a copy of the new print edition.

In closing I want to thank you personally, and the American Indian Studies Center for providing these many books to me, at no cost, to me. I have a much greater understanding and knowledge of the <sup>our</sup> indigenous people from this continent.

Sincerely, John
