

MISHUANA GOEMAN

BOOK READING AND DISCUSSION

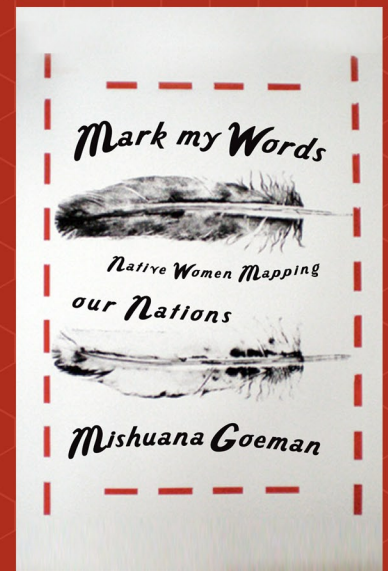

THURSDAY, MAY 23, 2013

ROLFE HALL 1301

3 - 5 PM

Join us for a discussion by Professor Mishuana Goeman on her new book, Mark My Words: Native Women (Re)mapping Our Nations in conversation with Professor Jessica Cattelino, UCLA Department of Anthropology.

Presented by the UCLA American Indians Studies Center.
Co-sponsored by the UCLA Department of Gender Studies and the UCLA Center for the Study of Women.

THE AUTHOR

Mishuana Goeman (Tonawanda Seneca) is an Associate Professor of Gender Studies at the University of California, Los Angeles. She received her doctorate from Stanford University's Modern Thought and Literature and was a UC presidential Post-doctoral fellow at Berkeley.

All-day parking ($11) and short-term parking (payable at pay stations) are available in Lots 2, 3, and 4 (enter the campus at Hilgard and Westholme avenues). For more information, call 310-825-7315 or visit www.aisc.ucla.edu. If you would like to support the UCLA American Indian Studies Center, its students and its programs, please visit <https://giving.ucla.edu/aisc>.

